Writing Retreat

Studies in the Arts | Graduate School of Arts and Humanities

Date

10 – 14 February 2025

Place

Hotel Meielisalp, Leissigen

2 ECTS

Expenses

Travel expenses have to be paid for by participants.

Accommodation (single room) and meals will be paid for by the SINTA

Language

English or German (for other languages please get in touch beforehand)

Registration

Until 10th of January 2025 via E-Mail to nicola.leuchter@unibe.ch

Open to all SINTA and GSAH-members

The writing retreat offers you one week of intensive writing and concentration on your dissertation or other writing projects. You will have the opportunity to discuss your writing progress in an individual coaching. At the same time, the writing retreat is a great occasion to meet and connect with other young researchers in the field of Humanities.

Registration and conditions

Send your registration to Nicola Leuchter by 10th of January 2025.

Please note that you may attend a maximum of three writing retreats in total, including any combination of SINTA and GSAH retreats.

To register, send a short letter of motivation to Nicola Leuchter wherein you describe your writing project, progress of your project, what you will work on, and your goals for the writing retreat (each in max. two sentences).

Allocation of places takes place according to First come – First served – principle. Please be aware that if interest is high, we might allocate places according to urgency of the writing project, diversity of discipline, and gender balance.

Venue: Hotel Meielisalp, Leissigen

Hotel Meielisalp is a hotel in the small village of Leissigen above lake Thun. It does not only offer all the infrastructure that you will need for one week of concentrated writing, but also an inspiring view of lake Thun and a range of opportunities to take a breather should you need a break from writing.
